

Great Biscuit

! Museum Trail !

Huntley & Palmers
1822

Begin in the Welcome Gallery

Can you spot a tiny tin of biscuits? What kind are they?

Jacob's Biscuits joined Huntley & Palmers in 1969.

Look up, can you see a girl standing on a Jacob's biscuit? What type of biscuit do you think it is?

Head to the Bayeux Tapestry

Gallery on the first floor

In Scene 39, there is a man baking biscuits and cakes for William's men.

Can you see him? What were the biscuits baked in?

Head to the Silchester

Gallery on the second floor

I am a spice with a name all in a jumble. The Romans used me to make tasty cakes and biscuits. What am I?

NNNCIMAO

There is a biscuit hiding in this gallery.

Can you spot it in a corner by a pillar?

Turn over the page

Cartoons by Florencia Botta

Walk via the Art and Windows Galleries to the Huntley and Palmers Gallery

Soldiers were given biscuits during the World Wars, but they were often very hard and not so yummy.

Can you see the biscuit with a note on it? What is it warning you to watch out for?

To advertise Huntley and Palmers' biscuits, sales people would use a special carry case.

How many different biscuits can you see and name in the carry case?

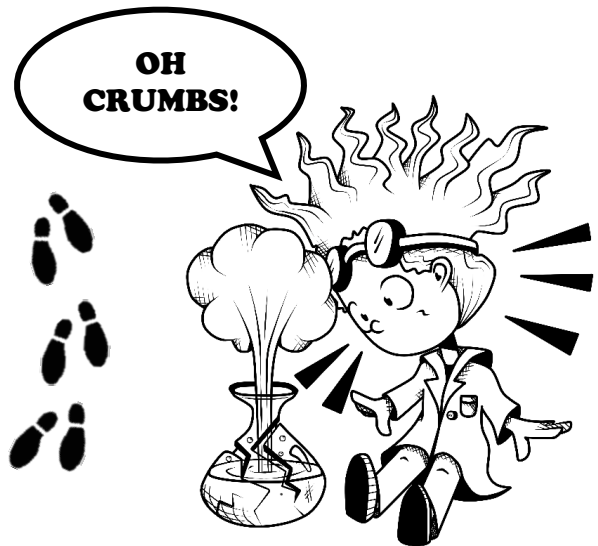

Next to the World Wars case is a plan of Huntley and Palmers' giant factory. Find the Experimental Department.

What do you think they did there?

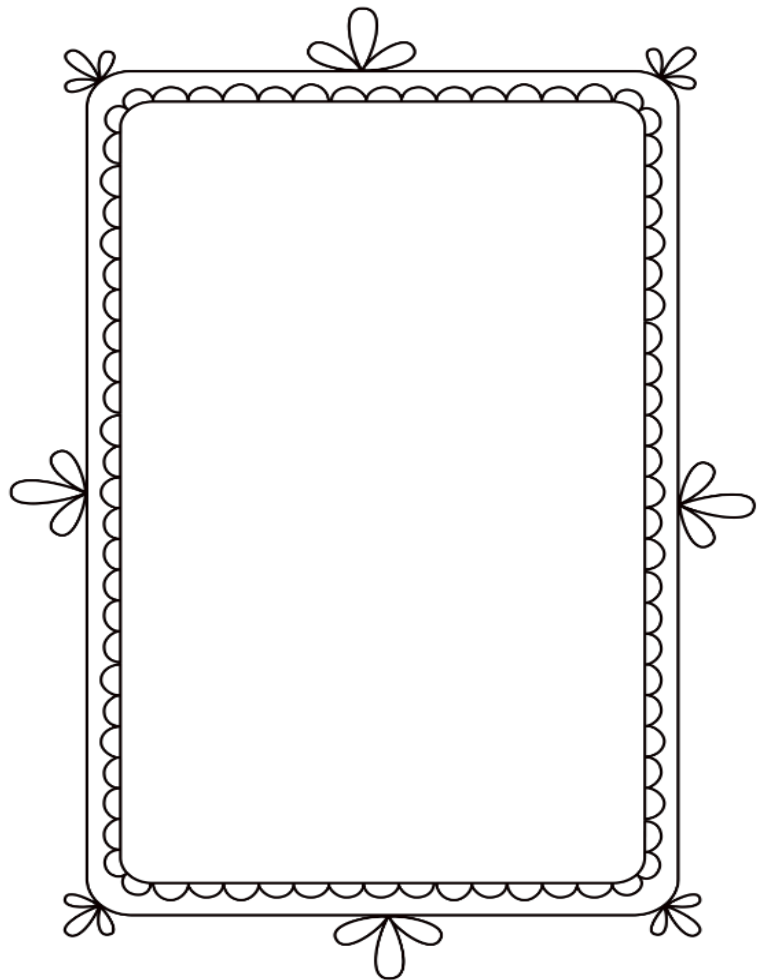

Look for the strange machine that turns with a big metal handle.

What was it used for?

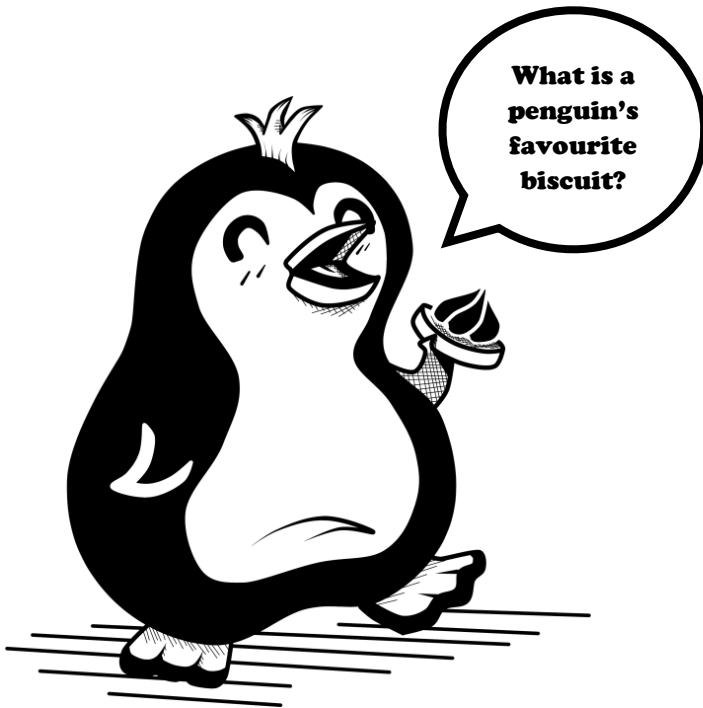

Look inside the big book of biscuit designs.
Design and name your own dream biscuit!

Turn over the page

Cartoons by Florencia Botta

Walk via the Green Space and Atrium down to the Story of Reading Gallery.

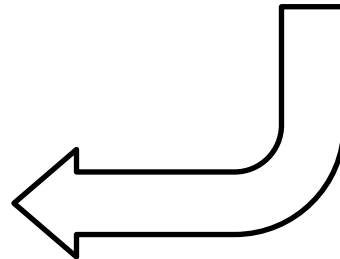

Find the Red Brick Town case

This round biscuit has been all the way down to the South Pole and back!

Who took it there?
What kind of biscuit would you bring to the South Pole?

Find the Silicon City case

Can you spot a royal couple on a tin nearby?
What does this tin celebrate?

Well done! You finished the trail!

Joke Answers

What was William the Conqueror's favourite biscuit?
Ten Sixty Twixt!

What is a penguin's favourite biscuit?
Iced Gems!